

How we use your information in New Leaf - Women's Turnaround

Our Privacy Notice for people who use services

At PSS we know that your privacy is very important to you. We can assure you that it is even more important to us. That's why we want to tell you how we plan to respect and look after your personal information. This is the 'privacy notice' which tells you how we do this.

1. How we collect personal information about you

When you give it to us directly

We will collect personal information directly from you, when we meet with you and complete your assessment and support plan, and whilst we deliver any interventions. We usually do this in person with you.

When you give permission to other organisations to share it

We will have received information on your behalf from another organisation or professional; when a referral has been made to us (e.g. from Probation or as part of an Order)

Children's Data

We sometimes collect information about children and young people at PSS. Where possible and appropriate we will seek consent from a parent or guardian before collecting information about children.

2. What personal information do we collect?

The personal information we collect would include details such as your name, date of birth, email address, postal address and, phone number. We may also collect information about other people in your life, such as your next of kin or emergency contact details.

Some information such as ethnicity, religion, health information and sexual orientation is called 'special category data'. We have a public interest to collect this; but also to ensure that we don't discriminate against you.

We will only collect the information we absolutely need to provide your service and support you.

3. Why we need your information?

Our legal basis for having your information, is that the services we provide are in the area of Offender Management, and therefore the work we do is carried out in the public interest. Specific reasons we need your information are::

- To ensure that we understand what your needs might be under the 9 pathways
- To ensure that we are able to provide the right interventions to be able to support you during your time with New Leaf - Women's Turnaround
- To be able to contact you and the important people in your life
- To manage our relationship with you during your time with New Leaf - Women's Turnaround- including understanding if your needs change, the outcomes you want to achieve or any issues or concerns that you have
- To ensure that we are fair and don't discriminate against you in any way; and can respond to any concerns that you might have
- To keep you safe and protect you from any potential harm

As well as to:

- Keep you updated with information about changes to your service or PSS as a whole
- Contact you for feedback to improve your service
- Produce annual reports and statistics about what we do at PSS
- Provide you with important advice and support relating to your service that might have an impact
- Inform you of any activities going on within the service or at PSS.
- To help us to identify you when you contact us and make sure that we can keep our records up to date.

We may also need to receive written consent from you to use your information for a more specific purpose, and will always ensure we get this consent and explain why it is needed (e.g. consent to take photographs or videos). You will have the right to withdraw this consent at any time.

If you don't think we have a good reason to use your data in the ways explained above, you have a right to object. Please see section ten of this leaflet, or the 'My Information, My Rights' leaflet available at psspeople.org.uk

4. What we will and won't do with your personal information

- ✓ We will always work hard to keep your information safe.
- ✓ We may share your data with other agencies where we need to do so (e.g. the Probation service). We will ensure that we have a lawful reason whenever we do this – for example, to comply with our contract.
- ✓ We may need to disclose your information if required to do so by law. We will always try to discuss this with you before doing so and explain why we are doing it.
- ✓ We may also need to disclose your information if there are concerns about your safety or wellbeing. Your safety is really important to us and we may need to share or disclose information if we believe there is a real risk to you, or if you pose a risk to others or yourself. This could be with the local authority or with the Police.
- ✓ We may choose to delete posts on social media which contain information of a sensitive nature.

- ✗ We will never sell or share your personal information with organisations so that they can contact you for any marketing activities.
- ✗ We will never sell any information about the website you visit.
- ✗ We will never share your information with people who don't need access to it.

5. Who sees your personal information?

The personal information we collect about you will be used by our staff at PSS so that they can ensure that we can continue to provide your support. This information will be known to your team at New Leaf - Women's Turnaround who help support you and staff in central services who need access to your information - such as the Quality and Compliance Team who send out the annual surveys and do audits of files and information on a regular basis. We may also possibly share your information with legal and regulatory authorities if required to by law.

6. How we keep your information safe

We take the security of your personal information extremely seriously and anything we do with your data will be in line with the Data Protection Act 2018, which bring into force the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation.

Your personal information may be stored by PSS either in paper form or electronically. We have implemented appropriate physical, technical and organisational measures to protect the personal information we have under our control, both on and off-line, from improper access, use, alteration, destruction and loss.

We only keep your information for as long as is reasonable and necessary, in line with our retention schedules which are based on best practice guidance. This is usually for a set period of time and will depend on the type of information and the individual requirements of the service. We will then ensure that the information is securely destroyed.

Here are some of the ways we protect your personal information:

- Secure folders on our system
- Password protection
- Firewalls on our servers
- Locked cabinets and drawers
- Restricted access to systems
- Policies, Procedures and Training

7. Your rights over your information

Your personal information is yours, and you have a range of other rights over it. This includes accessing it, updating it, amending it or asking for it to be erased. Please refer to the “My Information, My Rights” leaflet for further information, or contact us at the details on the back of this leaflet.

8. Changes to this Privacy Notice

This Privacy Notice is reviewed regularly to ensure that it reflects how we use your information. Where appropriate, changes will be notified to you by email or post. We may update this on the internet when there are minor changes, but will let you know of any major changes.

9. Data Controller and Data Processor

PSS have a contract with Golden Gates Housing (part of the Torus Group) to provide your service. They provide us with some personal information, and require us to manage and collect more information on their behalf. Therefore PSS is what’s known as the Data Processor, and Golden Gates Housing are the Data Controller. This just means we have slightly different responsibilities, but we are all fully committed to keeping your information secure.

10. Right of Complaint

If you have a concern about the way we are handling your information, then we would like to discuss this with you in the first instance and see if we can put things right. You can contact us using the details on the back of this leaflet.

However, if you wish, you are entitled to complain to the supervisory body which is the Information Commissioner's Office. The contact details are below:
